Reinsurance revenue (gross) fell by 3.1% to EUR 12.9 billion (previous year: EUR 13.3 billion). Growth would have reached 0.7% at unchanged exchange rates.

The reinsurance service result (net), reflecting the profitability of underwriting activity after deduction of business ceded (primarily retrocessions and insurance-linked securities), climbed to EUR 1.7 billion (EUR 1.4 billion). The reinsurance finance result (net) before exchange rate effects, which is structurally negative and captures the interest accretion on technical reserves discounted in prior years, totalled EUR -773.4 million (EUR -667.6 million).

The currency result amounted to EUR -52.9 million (EUR 236.1 million). While the previous year's result had benefited from the depreciation of the US dollar in the first half of 2025, the strengthening of the US dollar in the first six months of 2026 gave rise to opposing effects. The adoption of euro / US dollar hedge accounting in the second half of 2025 made it possible to limit the impacts on the result. Other income and expenses stood at EUR -235.1 million (EUR -272.1 million).

The operating profit (EBIT) grew by 9.7% to EUR 1.9 billion (EUR 1.8 billion). Group net income increased by 7.0% to EUR 1.4b (EUR 1.3 billion). Earnings per share came in at EUR 11.66 (EUR 10.90).

Return on equity reaches 21.5%

Shareholders' equity amounted to EUR 13.3 billion as at 30 June 2026 (31 December

Combined ratio in property and casualty reinsurance improves to 83.2%

The new business CSM (net) contracted by 13.3% to EUR 1.7 billion (EUR 2.0 billion). This was driven primarily by price declines in the most recent rounds of renewals as well as exchange rate effects, partially offset by volume growth due to increased new business – especially in the second quarter.

Reinsurance revenue (gross) in property and casualty reinsurance retreated by 8.0% to EUR 8.8 billion (EUR 9.5 billion). A decrease of 3.9% would have been booked at unchanged exchange rates.

Payments for large losses in the first half-year totalled EUR 784.7 million (EUR 976.1 million) and thus came in below our budgeted expectation of EUR 1,024.6 million. As usual, the entire large loss budget for the first six months was used as the basis for calculating the half-year result.

The largest net individual losses from natural catastrophes for Hannover Re were Winter Storm Fern in the United States and Canada at the start of the year in an amount of EUR 130.4 million, the severe Atlantic windstorms that impacted the Iberian Peninsula and Morocco to the tune of EUR 126.4 million as the year got underway and the June earthquake in Venezuela, for which an amount of EUR 75.0 million has initially been reserved.

Hannover Re has set aside altogether roughly EUR 200 million for potential impacts of particular by attractive market opportunities that opened up in the US financial solutions segment.

New CSM generation (net), comprised of new business (net) and contract extensions (net), rose to EUR 384.8 million (previous year: EUR 364.7 million). The contractual service margin (net) grew by 6.1% to EUR 6.7 billion (31 December 2025: EUR 6.3 billion). The increase would have reached 3.6% adjusted for exchange rate effects.

Reinsurance revenue (gross) was up by 9.1% to EUR 4.1 billion (EUR 3.8 billion). Growth of 12.1% would have been recorded at constant exchange rates.

The reinsurance service result (net) climbed by 7.5% to EUR 478.0 million (EUR 444.5 million) and is thus very well on course to reach the full-year target of around EUR 925 million. The included new business LC (net) amounted to EUR 4.9 million (EUR 16.3 million).

The operating result (EBIT) in life and health reinsurance declined by 13.1% to EUR 408.2 million (EUR 469.9 million).

Return on investment ahead of target at 3.7%

"Our investment result and further strengthening of the interest rate level in our asset portfolio in 2025 through the realisation of unrealised losses played a major part in Hannover Re's profitability," said Christian Hermelingmeier, Chief Financial Officer of Hannover Re expects Group net income of at least EUR 2.7 billion for the 2026 financial year.

"The very good half-year result puts Hannover Re in an excellent position," said Clemens Jungsthöfel. "Taken together with our resilience, which we again strengthened considerably in the previous year, and our lean operating model, I am looking to the full 2026 financial year and our long-term profitability with confidence."

The treaty renewals in property and casualty reinsurance as at 1 June and 1 July 2026 brought continued price declines for Hannover Re. Parts of the North American portfolio, especially natural catastrophe risks, are traditionally renewed in June and July as well as business from Australia and New Zealand and in the credit and surety lines. The volume increased by altogether 12.3%. Prices on the renewed business retreated by 4.5% on an inflation- and risk-adjusted basis.

Reinsurance revenue in traditional property and casualty reinsurance grew more modestly than originally anticipated in the first half of the year, with an increase of 0.2% year-on-year adjusted for exchange rate effects. The successful treaty renewals in the year under review are expected to have an appreciable positive impact on reinsurance revenue (gross) over the remainder of the year. With this in mind, currency-adjusted growth in reinsurance revenue (gross) in traditional business (excluding structured reinsurance) in the mid-single-digit percentage range remains attainable for the full financial year. In addition, Hannover Re expects a combined ratio of less than 87%.
